1717 A St. Marie male called stating there was a male child, 4 or 5 years old, who was out playing in the snow by their house. The child did not appear to know where he was. The neighbor across the street had taken the child in. The child didn’t know where he lived or what his name was. At 5:38 p.m., another female called in on the 911 line, stating her 6-year-old grandson didn’t come home after school today. Her husband was home sick and she was at work. Dispatch advised her of the address where the child was and a deputy was notified. The deputy reported that the grandfather picked up the little boy, who was having hot chocolate in front of the fireplace getting warmed up. It appeared that the bus driver dropped him off on the wrong street. Everything is fine now.

0955 A Glasgow female called, and when dispatch answered, she told them she had called the wrong number. There was a bit of commotion and dispatch wasn’t able to speak with her again, but it appeared the phone didn’t hang up. Dispatch wasn’t able to call the woman back and only got a busy signal when she dialed the number. A deputy was notified, who reported he spoke with the woman’s son who assured him that his mother was okay.

1032 A Glasgow female called 911 from the hospital’s general number. When dispatch answered, she advised she had misdialed and hung up. Dispatch checked with the hospital, who confirmed everything was fine at the hospital.

1407 A Washington female called to confirm the warrant on a female. A deputy confirmed that we will extradite.

1823 A male employee from Ezzie’s called in a drive-off of $38.64 from a white Chevy pickup with a utility rack on top – no plate number. He also said the vehicle was headed eastbound on Hwy. 2. A deputy was at Flips with a vehicle matching this description. The driver and the deputy will go back to Ezzie’s to pay for the gas.

2250 A traffic control issue was investigated in Glasgow. A deputy advised the driver was not impaired, just overly tired from driving from Williston.

0250 A Valley County female stated she had a report of a white truck in the ditch in Valley County. She stated the back flashers were on, and the truck had been reported as a hazard to the railroad tracks. She didn’t have a license number. At 3 a.m., a deputy reported the vehicle that was in the ditch was being pulled out and there was no damage to the vehicle.

0820 A Glasgow female reported her vehicle was hit in the high school parking lot. She advised there were no injuries and all parties were still at the scene. She gave the name of the other party involved and that she herself was driving a Dodge Caravan.

1607 A Valley County female advised that a westbound white pickup passed her when she was stopped with her lights going. The vehicle had yellow and orange plates and was possibly a GMC. She was willing to sign a complaint. She called back to see if officers found the vehicle.

1654 A Glasgow male reported that a little white S10 had been parked behind McDonald’s for about a week. He said there was a man sitting inside with his eyes closed. The vehicle wasn’t running. He would like someone to make sure the man was okay. A deputy was notified, who also knew the man who owned the pickup and went to check on him. He wasn’t in the vehicle, so he must be 10-4.

1732 A Glasgow female reported a bunch of kids on the east side of the library were screaming and yelling. She would like them removed.

1938 A Glasgow female caller said she received a phone call from an officer stating that there was going to be a concert at the Fort Peck Summer Theatre. The caller mentioned Chief Barstad’s name and wanted money. She wanted to know if this was legitimate and gave dispatch the phone number of her caller. A deputy was informed who advised her to call the PD office during day shift because the chief may know if this was a fundraiser.

2051 A 911 call was received from a cell phone. The location didn’t show. Dispatch could hear someone on the line, but they couldn’t hear her. At 8:47 p.m., the line disconnected. Dispatch called the number back and reached a male who said he must have pocket dialed and that everything was okay.

0943 A Hinsdale female received a call from someone saying they were with Publisher’s Clearinghouse and she had won $950,000, but she was to pay 10 percent taxes, which the caller told her was $2,150. He told her the staff would be at her house in an hour to get the money and then give her the $950K. She told him that if she won that much money, her tax person would handle it. She told dispatch that she knew this was a scam because Publisher’s Clearinghouse doesn’t call and that the caller’s math was wrong because $2,150 was not 10 percent of $950K. She hung up on them and doesn’t know what number they called from. She thought they were in the area because they said they would be at her house in an hour. Dispatch informed her, based on previous dealings with these people, that if you tell them you will have the money for them, then they come up with a reason for you to send the money rather than them picking it up, like it is held up at the border. She said this was the third scam she has gotten since yesterday. On Jan. 19, she got another call from a man saying he was with Publisher’s Clearinghouse. He said she had won $625,000 and a convertible. She had asked him how much she would have to pay for this one.

2258 A Phillips County woman said she received a report from a woman that she was almost run off the road by a silver pickup with a trailer (license unknown). The vehicle was headed eastbound by Sleeping Buffalo. Their complainant was behind the vehicle and was driving a light blue Ford Edge. They have a deputy headed that way, but he might not be able to catch up to it. Deputies and HHP were notified.

0624 An anonymous caller called saying there was a loud alarm going off at a Glasgow location, and then another female reported a zone 2 sliding glass door alarm at a Glasgow location. The second caller gave the names of the two keyholders for the business and their phone numbers. Dispatch called one first, whose wife said her husband was in the shower but he would call her back. She would like a call if the dog was found.

1051 A Glasgow male advised they were going to be moving cattle along Hwy. 2 near the railroad siding. He said the ditches were pretty full of snow, so he thinks they may be going on the road for some of it. He was wondering if there was anyone to assist with traffic control.

1349 A male with MDOT reported a vehicle on the side of the road. He said it was about 2 feet over the white line and advised if we had any type of weather that would make it a nuisance for plowing the road. Dispatch called the registered owner, who said the car had just quit on them about an hour ago. She will call back with details on when they can get it moved. At 5:43 p.m., an Opheim man reported a gray van that was partially in the southbound lane of Hwy. 24N. He said it was about ½ mile north of Rose Hill and had its lights on. Dispatch believes it was kids who didn’t know the phone worked.

1844 A Glasgow female requested a walk-through because of some young girls who had been in the store by the apparel dressing rooms for over a half hour.

2053 Dispatch received a fake 911 call, an accidental dial prank.
